7 December 2011

Re: Re-Sale of Year 7 Text Books

Dear Parents/Guardians

For a variety of reasons several of the text books currently being used in Year 7 at the College will not be used again next year. Some of the texts have been superseded by newer editions and some have been replaced by electronic texts that can be downloaded on to the iPads.

There are two books that can be sold to incoming Year 7 students. These are:

- To Know Worship and Love; and
- My Girragundji

It is also possible to sell Humanities Alive, however, the eBook access code associated with this book may have expired and prospective purchasers would need to be advised of this.

Some changes have been forced upon us with the imminent introduction of the Australian Curriculum. The Science text which we have been using for 5 years has been updated in line with the Australian Curriculum. We have decided not to use the current English text any longer after 3 years and there was no Maths Textbook on the Booklist. Workbooks that should have been used in class to complete work cannot be resold.

Students will need to retain their Dictionary, the Bible, the Drama book, the Atlas and the Atlas Work Book plus aprons, safety glasses and lab coats for use in Year 8.

The College will purchase the first 20 good quality second hand copies of the following books:

- Binna Binna Man; and
- Lockie Leonard Scumbuster

We will purchase good quality copies of these texts from the first 20 students who are able to produce the text to the Barak Library on Thursday 8 December 2011 after 1.00 p.m. Cheques will then be posted to parents/guardians.

I trust that this information will ease the burden a little for parents/guardians.

Yours sincerely

Bernard G Dobson
Principal